

Plan to Get Out Alive

- Knowing what to do before a fire occurs can save your life. Develop an escape plan for your family and practice it today:
- Draw a floor plan and know at least two exits from every room; if one is a window, be sure every family member knows how to open it and that it opens easily
- If you live or work in a high-rise building, know the location of the exit stairs; never take the elevator during a fire
- Designate a meeting place at a safe distance outside the home
- Practice your fire escape plan with fire drills at least once every six months
